

Opportunity Bank: Class Career Exploration in 2018-19

What's up in 2018-19: The nonprofit Portland Workforce Alliance is working with Portland Public Schools to expand opportunities for students to have real-world career exploration at area employers. The shared goal is to assist career coordinators with connecting CTE or CCE classes to employers for Class Career Exploration.

This work is a pilot collaboration with PPS' Office of College and Career Readiness. These class-based Career Exploration opportunities are "upon request" and in addition to PWA's traditional Career Days, which allow students from across PPS to sign up individually based on their own career interests.

What is Class Career Exploration? It is like a traditional Career Day, but with a few variations:

- It is scheduled with a particular CTE or CCE class in mind. If the teacher prefers an afternoon time, or a certain day of the week, we can make that request.
- It can complement the class curriculum.
- The length can be flexible, depending on teacher needs and employer situation. Could be 3+ hours, could be 90 minutes. (We would not recommend less than that.)

Sample scenarios:

- Your school has an advanced CTE class with 20-30 students. Could we plan a Career Day with them in mind?
- Your school is building a new program and the teacher wants students to continue in that program. Could we schedule a Class Career Exploration that would get new students excited about staying in that field?
- Your school has 10-15 students in a small advanced CTE class and the teacher would love to provide them with more enrichment. Could we schedule a Career Day with them in mind, then open remaining seats to other PPS schools?

How to request an opportunity: Career coordinators should contact PPS central office and notify PWA.

When to request an opportunity: As early as possible! Most employers require significant lead time (4-6 weeks).

Big dreams. Good jobs. All students.
