Here are a few things you need to know about the 2016 Expo:

Location

Oregon Convention Center • Halls A & B.

What Your Money Pays For

Your exhibitor fee pays for Expo expenses, which total nearly $90,000. Our expenses include facility rental, personnel and the PWA Breakfast. Our expense budget also includes funds to help schools cover the costs of student transportation and substitute teachers. Thank you for supporting career education and your future workforce.

How You Help PWA Make a Difference

The Expo is part of a broader strategy to work with employers throughout the year to educate students about family-wage jobs and the skills required to be successful in the workplace. PWA develops career-learning experiences for students including career days, mentorship programs, internships, mock interviews and classroom presentations.

Make the Most of Your Exhibit

Bulk areas on the exhibit hall floor allow exhibitors to do hands-on demonstrations. Exhibitors can also do demonstrations and hands-on activities in their booths, such as welding, robotics, health-care simulations, fun competitions, etc. Students love to be able to do activities, try out equipment and touch the products your company makes. Find more exhibitor tips on PWA's website, www.portlandworkforcealliance.org/expo

Expo Sponsorship Opportunities

See the PWA website for more information about sponsorship opportunities. This is a great way to get your company in front of students, earn more exposure in the community and establish yourself as an industry leader.

Mock Interviews

At the 2015 Expo, Portland Human Resource Management Association (PHRMA) and Oregon Staffing Association (OSA) professionals did mock interviews with more than 960 students. Mock interviews are an excellent opportunity for students to receive direct input from HR professionals about interviewing. Expo volunteers also help students with writing a resume and completing a job application. Contact us if your HR department would like to send a volunteer.

Green Event

We are proud to say that the Expo is a green event. Our pre-Expo communication is via email, we reuse our signage from year to year, we recycle our materials, and we cut down on our electrical use by using a generator for many of the demonstrations. Also, the Oregon Convention Center emphasizes sustainability and recycling.
